Sumei Multidisciplinary Arts Center

in conjunction with Newark Arts Council - Open Doors Studio Tour 2010 -

Presents Three Days of Outstanding Programming.

Exhibition: Ironbound Unbound

Opening reception: Thursday September 23, 5:30 to 9pm

Print Making Party with Printmaker Stefano McKenzie - Sunday Sept. 26, 10am to 5pm

An exhibit of the works of: Isabel Amaro, Lavett Ballard, Shirley Bernal Pedroza, William Coronado, Arlete Costa, Joseph Cotugno, Ursmar Fernandez, France Garrido, Nadir Martins Telli, Andreia Matos, Stephen McKenzie, Ariana Mirabile, Cila Santos, Antonio Silva Rendeiro, Ted Petrochko, Suzanne Kammin Baron

A collection of 16 artists, most from the Ironbound with a few artists from other parts of New Jersey have gotten together to present an array of some of the state's best creative works. In a series of little studios donated and sponsored by Don Pepe Restaurant, each artist will present and demonstrate the best and latest of their creations in a brilliant array of varying genres. From video works to painting, sculpture, collage, photography, this event is a first for the Ironbound. The intention is to open up the creativity of Immigrant artists in the Ironbound onto the stage of Newark's Open Doors Studio Tour, (now in its fifth year), in a three day burst of vibrant art happenings. Along with the exhibit will be an all day print making workshop in which the public is invited to participate in making and learning mono printing techniques. Participation is free and the completed works will hang at a site to be decided in the Ironbound.

Culminating Event of the Weekend

Print Making Art Happening Party with Printmaker Stefano McKenzie – Sunday September 26, 10am to 5pm – The public and artists are invited to work together to create a site specific mono print that would hang in a public location in the Ironbound. Wear work clothes. Bring lunch.

Workshop location: 142 Lafayette St. Free to all.
